Quality People, Quality Projects

35 years of people-first construction

Founded in 1985, our family-oriented and client-focused construction firm has continually diversified to meet market trends and client needs, with a singular focus on what we call p.i.e. – people, integrity, and excellence.

Construction is a customer service business. That's why PWI Construction puts people first in everything we do.

Using a people-first approach, we lead the way in the development of hospitality, restaurant, high-end retail, and specialty construction projects.

We begin building value well before we start the construction process, by leveraging our decades of experience in diverse industries and geographies.

We work with you to build a finished product that is high quality, on time and in budget.

Core Markets

Headquartered in Las Vegas and with three regional offices, we have the people, resources, and experience to successfully lead and complete projects throughout North America.
